Vina Santiago Merlot - 13%

$28

Merlot is a ruby red wine with violet hues. The Merlot is considered more of a crowd pleasing or “easy drinking” red wine because of these characteristics, and in a blend where it’s the dominant grape. It’s soft fruit flavors cause the wine to taste great at a much younger age, which is a reason winemakers love it. It’s often described as juicy with flavors of chocolate and cherry, and we find it absolutely delicious alongside a cheeseburger or steak frites.

Vina Santiago Syrah - 13%

$28

Syrah is a big, thick-skinned grape that originates in the Rhone Valley, yet has found its home in hot climates all over the world. Chilean Syrah is a big, bold luscious wine that, given Chile's diverse climate, changes from region to region. The shiraz variety gives hearty, spicy reds. While shiraz is used to produce many average wines it can produce some of the world’s finest, deepest, and darkest reds with intense flavors and excellent longevity. Aromas and flavors of wild black fruit (such as blackcurrant), with overtones of black pepper spice and roasting meat.

Sassicaia Vino Da Tavola 2015 - 14%
This is a confident and proud red wine from Tuscany. The acidity is integrated, but more freshness still would have been welcomed in my view (and would also contribute to its longevity). The bouquet is amplified both in terms of volume and length. Its playlist includes dark berry fruit, spice, leather, licorice and roasted coffee bean. Yet, the mouthfeel is extremely graceful and silky. The wine's undisputed pedigree is showcased on the palate. It will age and evolve beautifully, but the 2015 Sassicaia can also be enjoyed in the medium-term.

$460

Very deep garnet-purple in color, the 2018 Opus One soars out of the glass with bright, bold boysenberries, warm cassis and ripe, juicy black plums notes, plus emerging nuances of lilacs, oolong tea, cinnamon stick, tilled soil and black truffles. Medium to full-bodied, the palate is packed with tightly wound layers of crunchy black fruits, supported by firm, grainy tannins and fantastic freshness, finishing with lifted fruitiness and on a lingering mineral note.
